

Hear them Speak

Finally

Some practical advice and strategies to help when caring for seriously ill loved ones as home.

Joan Wilson-Jones

Marie Williams

Hear Brisbane author
Joan Wilson-Jones
'in conversation'

with 2013
Finch Memoir Prize winner
Marie Williams
(Green Vanilla Tea)

Join us on Friday 19th June 2015, 7.00 pm to 9.00 pm

at The Relaxation Centre of Queensland

15 South Pine Road Alderley 4051

Call (07) 3856 3733 for tickets ($5.00 per person)

An event to officially launch:
Who Cares

help for those caring for seriously ill loved ones at home.

Live musical entertainment by Calcite.

When Joan's partner Philip was diagnosed with an aggressive, metastasized prostate cancer in 2002, she quickly found that despite her personal resources and professional training, she was not ready for her new role as a caregiver. She realized this newfound responsibility could potentially stretch her to her limits. And she was right. In her new book, Who Cares: Help for those Caring for Seriously Ill Loved Ones at Home (published by Balboa Press AU), Joan provides a support guide for other caregivers (and those around the caregivers) based on her experience caring for her husband. More than a memoir and bigger than a self help book, Who Cares brings hope through practical strategies and ideas.

About the Author

Joan Wilson-Jones is a successful communication consultant and lifestyle coach who owns JwJ Consulting (www.jwjconsulting.com). Her eclectic – traditional and holistic – approach helps people enhance their lives. Joan and her partner live north of Brisbane. Who Cares is her first book (RRP $25.95).